A UNION EXPOSITION.

Organized Labor's Achievements to Be Celebrated.
President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor is preparing through representatives for a "union exposition". The object of the fair is to celebrate the achievements of organized labor throughout the world and especially in the United States.

Minnesota tentatively has been selected as the place for holding this novel exposition, and it is probable it will take place next November, when the convention of the national labor body is in progress in that city.

Max Morris, fourth vice president of the American Federation of Labor, who is in charge of the preliminary plans, explains that the exploitation of union labor never has been attempted on such a scale as President Gompers has in mind. The aim of Mr. Gompers, he says, is to bring together the products of union workmen in every branch of industry, to illustrate the superiority which is claimed for this class of goods and also to demonstrate the growth of the union labor movement in the United States since its inception sixty years ago.

Some idea of the character of the projected exposition may be gained by the announcement that 2,000,000 men, comprising the total membership of the American Federation of Labor, are expected to contribute to its success. Other countries also will be represented.

There will be exhibits representing all of the industries in which union labor is interested.

LABOR IN NEW YORK.

Trades Unionists Are the Highest Paid Workers.
The current bulletin of the New York department of labor contains some very interesting statistics. The figures are for the months of January, February and March, but there is every reason to believe that the conditions set forth have not deteriorated in the three months that followed.

In the first three months of the present year the average earnings of 333,000 workmen employed in factories, stores, hotels, railway service, construction work and other occupations were $2.33 a day, or $212 for the quarter. These figures are considerably above the average wages of wage earners generally because they relate chiefly to skilled workmen belonging to trades or labor unions. No women and few minors are included, and unskilled labor is feebly represented.

The average wage for a day's work in this period was $3, which is a large advance over the wages of previous years. Last year the average daily wage, calculated by the same methods, was $2.85. Quarterly earnings have increased even more than daily wages being to steadier employment.

The executive board of the Massachusetts state branch of the American Federation of Labor has decided to erect a monument over the grave of the veteran labor leader, George E. McNeill. At a recent meeting of the council the secretary was directed to immediately send a circular letter to every union in Massachusetts asking an appropriation for the monument.
